

Ed Robinson.....CSP

"Ed is one of the finest motivational speakers I've heard. He uses life experiences to sink ideas into others' minds. His content is not just conceptual; it's completely applicable. He's very professional and accessible, willing to listen to his audience and help develop them, working through their issues. I always walk away with new ideas to improve myself and others." Cindy Gabriel, Deloitte

"Ed is a dynamic, entertaining speaker with excellent content to share. He relates very well to each group, recognizing the groups' dynamics and adjusting his presentation accordingly. He works far ahead to determine exactly what we want to cover and adjusts his programs accordingly. He is one of the best speakers we've had." Mike Jacka, Zurich Financial

"What impresses me the most about Ed is his command of the stage and his knowledge of the subject matter. His own style is very engaging and personable; he keeps you on the edge of your seat. He's also very genuine and believable. His good-natured personality makes him easy to work with. I highly, highly recommend him." Christopher Emanuel, EPA

"I've observed Ed in a number of presentations and he is also an executive coach for us. He's always very enthusiastic and quite engaging. One of his strong suits is the ability to tackle difficult issues. He's very good at handling potentially conflictive situations. He works in a very supportive manner to achieve the goals of the group using a positive, proactive approach." Karen Gallen, Singer Lewak

"Ed has a great way of connecting with people. His warm personality and wonderful presentation style make him so enjoyable as a speaker. Self-described as a 'recovering CPA', Ed has great knowledge of the mindset of our members. Several of our attendees have told me he's one of the best speakers we've ever had. His expertise definitely ranks him as a 10 on a scale of 1-10." Jim Hardenberg, NJSCPA
